

We certify that Yellow (Nicotine) Limestone as quarried by A.J. Brauer Stone, Inc., in Jarrell, TX meets or exceeds the current applicable ASTM Specifications in C170.

Due to the inherent nature of the stone, variations in color and texture are to be expected. A.J. Brauer Stone suggests that the project Engineer and/or Architect, masonry contractor and all other appropriate parties review this product and submittal to determine its acceptability prior to initiation of the project. Should you require samples or our product, or if we can be of service to you in any way, please contact us.
